Programs & Courses

The Department of Physics educates students at all levels from general education, through preparation for teaching and scientific careers, to doctoral and post-doctoral education. Visit the pages below to learn about our programs.

- Undergraduate Programs - information about the Bachelor of Science degree and minoring in physics.
- Graduate Programs - information about our PhD and Professional Master's degree programs.
- 1xx Series Information - resources for students in our introductory physics courses.
- Courses - upcoming course offerings and syllabi.